Hey Competition Family,

As we gear up for the 2025 season, I want to remind everyone why we're here—to have fun. This is all volunteer-driven—from the folks on the track to the competition committee to the hosting clubs. We're one big family and treating each other with respect goes a long way in keeping this sport strong and welcoming.

This year, we're encouraging clubs to try new things and get creative. Let's keep the energy up and the good times rolling. We've also got some exciting updates to how we run playdays, so be ready for a few fresh changes that aim to make events smoother and even more enjoyable.

As always, landowner rules are a top priority. At the Ethel Events Center, a full cage and harness are required for all vehicles, no exceptions. Please help us honor the rules and the hard work that goes into keeping this space available.

Let's make 2025 our best season yet. If you've got questions, don't hesitate to reach out to your competition committee or to me directly.

SECTION 4 PRIMARY COURSES - TEAM RELAY

- 1) CLUB CHALLENGE TEAM RELAY: The following rules are set forth in the hope of giving clubs some assistance in hosting a successful Team Relay Race. They are written in a very explicit manner so that those clubs that have had no prior experience in hosting a Team Relay can do so with little or no problems.

Experience has shown that too few rules cause confusion and complaint and that too specific rules result in disqualification for any small infraction which also causes confusion and complaints. It is our hope that these rules will suffice for somewhere in between these two extremes. These rules are based on the philosophy that a team is a unit composed of individual members; therefore, the team shall be penalized for a member's infraction by that member and vehicle being disqualified for the heat in which it occurs. Safety is important for any racing event, but particularly for the Team Relay because of the multiple vehicles on the course at the same time. Make sure that the course is safe and that the spectators are kept safely behind barriers.

2) RACING RULES:

- A. Registration for region challenge and club challenge closes at the end of team relay drivers meeting (EXCEPTION: To fill incomplete teams).
- B. A parade lap is allowed for team relay.
- C. A relay team will consist of either four (4) or five (5) drivers and not more than five (5) or less than two (2) vehicles.
- D. No person or vehicle can run with more than one team. (EXCEPTION: See rule 4.4)

- G. Eye protection required for all drivers. Adequate flag holder required.
- H. All drivers are required to be race ready (i.e. helmets on and harnesses fastened) before leaving final staging to go to the gates. (EXCEPTION: Multiple driver vehicles.)
- I. Any racing from staging to the gates will be a driver disqualification for the day.
- J. Once the heat enters the course to go to the gates, any team or team member not present has five (5) minutes to get to their gate.
- K. The first vehicle will start when the starter's flag is RAISED. The second, third and fourth vehicles will start as soon as they can clear the preceding vehicle on their team as it enters the finish gate.

- N. Any roll-over is a MEMBER disqualification for that heat only. Roll-over vehicle must be re-teched by competition committee personnel before re-entering competition.
- O. If a roll-over occurs, the heat will be RED FLAGGED then restarted in place on course with roll-over driver's team starting in their gate with the next driver.
- P. If a vehicle breaks down and is blocking the course or another teams' gate or is on fire, the heat will be RED FLAGGED then restarted in place on course with blocking vehicles team starting in their gate with the next driver.
- Q. The blocking or burnt vehicle & driver will be disqualified for that heat. In the event the vehicle has multiple drivers, if vehicle is re-teched and found safe, it may re-enter that heat with the other driver.

- R. If a vehicle breaks down and is not blocking the course, the race will continue. All other drivers must slow down in the area of the disabled vehicle only. Drivers must remain in the stalled vehicle and keep their harness and helmet on, except if the vehicle is on fire. When and if the driver leaves the vehicle, the race will be red flagged and the race will be stopped. That driver will be disqualified and all other teams will be restarted in place.
 - 1. The driver that breaks down must raise their hands to let their team know to send out another vehicle.
 - 2. If the next vehicle on that team goes out on the course, when they already have a member on the course, the first vehicle will be a member disqualification for that heat.
- S. If the driver of the disabled vehicle is able to restart his/her vehicle without leaving their drivers seat, he/she may pull directly off the course when directed by the flag person to do so. If the heat has been red flagged and the driver, with the flag persons' direction can leave the course, they must return to their number in the staging area.
- T. Knocking over any portion of the start/finish gate of any team is a member/vehicle disqualification.
- U. Driver disqualified may not run again in that heat.
